

Granicus

Technology for people who are changing our world.

HOW WE HELP YOU

The public sector is under pressure to do more with less, while citizens demand more transparency, faster access, and better digital services. Government succeeds when it uses modern technology to carry out day-to-day tasks more efficiently, and to bridge the gap between agency and citizen.

By coming together with GovDelivery, Granicus is connecting a powerful global network of 150 million people for over 3,000 organisations at all levels of government in the UK and US. It is our goal to help you better communicate, manage meetings and agendas, and increase the use of digital services to boost citizen engagement. If you're ready to take a leap forward, we'd love to help.

GOVDELIVERY COMMUNICATIONS SUITE

More than 1,800 public sector organisations at all levels of government in the UK and US use the GovDelivery Communications Suite to increase digital engagement, grow their digital audience by cross-promoting content, build communities around data, and create modern training experiences. Our Communications Cloud meets the highest standards of security, giving you peace of mind that your data and citizen data are secure. The suite also gives you access to the GovDelivery Network, a powerful community of 150 million citizens worldwide, and a captive audience for government communicators.

DIGITAL SERVICES SUITE

With ever-increasing citizen expectations that their interactions with government be multi-channel digital, seamless, and easy, Granicus' Digital Services Suite can help overburdened government offices meet these needs. Whether you need to manage website content, build a data portal, streamline citizen services, or run complicated marketing campaigns, our experts are here to guide the way ahead. Every day the Granicus' Digital Services Suite empowers government organisations to take full advantage of cutting-edge technology and better meet the daily needs of the people they serve.

MEETING AND AGENDA SUITE

The Meeting and Agenda Suite allows government employees - notably those in democratic services teams - to streamline workflows, promote cross-departmental efficiency and collaboration, and establish meaningful connections with citizens - online, over social networks, and on mobile devices. Granicus' Meeting and Agenda Suite is the only end-to-end legislative management solution serving government. It provides a complete solution which includes pre-meeting agenda compilation software, paperless delivery of agendas, live-streaming video, in-meeting voting, and minutes recording and management.
